RE: North American Equities, Blazon Mine, INA/007/021, Folder #7, Carbon County, Utah

On January 22, 1985, I attempted to conduct an inspection of the inactive Blazon Mine to see if any activity had occurred since the last inspection. The weather was cloudy with light snow falling.

No plowing of the road above the town of Clear Creek had been done in some time. Snowdrifts up to four feet deep covered the road in places. No entry into the site had been attempted in some time. Pictures of the road were taken.

Due to the snow depth and distance of over one mile up the road from the town to the mine, I did not attempt to walk into the area.
