Keenan,

I finally received notice today that the bond increase for fossil rock has been completed and the last few necessary documents can be signed. I should receive these signed documents by the end of this week which is the current deadline for the midterm response submittal. I'm asking for the deadline to be extended another week in case I don't get those documents in time. Thank you for working with us during this time of transition in our company.

Hi Bryant,

That's good to hear about the bond increase going through. Thanks for keeping us updated on the status. Given the holiday next week may affect schedules and signature gathering, I'm granting you an additional two weeks for the midterm response. Your response date is now September 14th to gather the signatures and submit it. You are welcome to send in the documentation anytime before this date. Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Keenan
