RURAL YOUTH LOANS

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Farm Service Agency (FSA) makes operating loans to individual rural youths age 10 through 20 to establish and operate income-producing projects. These projects must be of modest size and be initiated, developed, and carried out by rural youths participating in 4-H clubs, Future Farmers of America, or a similar organization, or with a vocational teacher or county extension agent.

The project must be an organized and supervised program of work. It must be planned and operated with the assistance of the organization advisor, produce sufficient income to repay the loan, and provide the youth with practical business and educational experience.

These loans can finance nearly any kind of income-producing project. Some common projects include livestock and crop production, lawn and garden services, repair shops, and roadside stands.

These are direct loans and have a maximum loan amount of $5,000.

Additional information and application forms for youth project loans are available from the local FSA office, at 88 South 1st East, Castle Dale, Utah. Our phone number is (435) 381-2300.
