To All....This is to provide notification that I just returned from a scheduled inspection with BLM of Catchments C, E and F in the drainage below the West Ridge Mine. The purpose of this inspection was to assess the revegetation of the reclaimed catchments as a condition for relinquishing the BLM rights-of-way. At Catchment C, the water was visibly black, and there has been substantial accumulation of new coal fines along the stream banks in this area since the initial cleanup. At E downstream, the water was clear but additional accumulations were also present. At F the water was clear, with some smaller amounts of new accumulations. After the inspection, I went to A. The water there was clear. These observations have been reported to mine management.
