Good morning,

Looking forward to the next amendment for Phase II, Cheryl and I were talking about potential issues that may need to be crossed with the Corps.

As we discussed in the field when Cheryl and Bev came down with me, since the plan does require cutting/filling of the drainage next to the box-cut, we will need some documentation that the Corps has signed-off on your plans and how permitting is/isn't required from them.

I'm not well versed in how the Corps operates, but perhaps sending them the JBR report that was done on the channel and getting them to the Corps to the site would be suffice for them to give the green light.

At any rate, you'll need to touch that base for Phase II.

Steve
