RE: NOV #N84-2-22-1, Deseret-Wilburg Connection Road,
Utah Power and Light Company, ACT/015/017, #7,
Emery, County, Utah

Following our inspection of the Deseret-Wilburg connection road on October 30, 1984, I reviewed the road design plans submitted October 1, 1984. An inspection of the entire road was conducted by Dave Hooper and myself yesterday, November 8, 1984.

There are many erosion and drainage control problems on this road that are not addressed in the plans submitted. Of greatest concern is the large gullies into fill that drain directly into stream channels. The inlet of several drainage culverts across the road were completely buried in sediment, in addition to the culvert maintenance problems we discuss during the October 30, 1984 inspection.

The inadequate design and maintenance of drainage control measures along the Deseret-Wilburg connection road warrants NOV #N84-2-22-1, which is enclosed. I recommend that you inspect all drainage control structures and locate erosion problems along the entire length of road to determine what maintenance and design improvements are necessary to achieve compliance with the provisions cited in the NOV. Please note that erosion stabilization plans are required for the large gullies in the fill slopes. These plans must be approved prior to implementation.
