Report summary and status for pending enforcement actions, permit conditions, Division Orders, and amendments:

The Deer Creek mine was idle for the coal miner who died at Rino Energy accident.

The mine had a slight amount of snow cover.

Currently the UMWA union is working under the old contract/agreement. The permittee/operator are in talks for a new union contract.

I inspected the waste rock site and the mine site.

2. Signs and Markers

The mine identification signs are located at all points of public access into the various permit areas. The signs contain the necessary information to meet the R645 Coal Rules.

3. Topsoil

The topsoil piles were stable and there were no signs of wind and water erosion. Most of the piles were snow covered.

4.a Hydrologic Balance: Diversions

It is most likely that several diversions will need spring cleaning to clean out sediment from the diversion. This is a normal maintenance function of the permittee. There are no violations due to sediment build-up.

4.b Hydrologic Balance: Sediment Ponds and Impoundments

The mine site sediment pond was completely frozen over with a sheet of ice. No hazardous conditions were noticed. The embankments appeared to be stable.

7. Coal Mine Waste, Refuse Piles, Impoundments

I inspected the refuse pile. A contractor was working to spread and compact the refuse material. I did not see any hazardous conditions during the inspection. The slopes appear to be stable. The sediment pond was dry.

8. Noncoal Waste

All sites that I inspected were clear of non-coal waste materials. The permittee has changed the location of the trash bin since I last inspected the mine site. The change appears to be working very well.

10. Slides and Other Damage

No slides or other damage was noticed during the inspection.

16.a Roads: Construction, Maintenance, Surfacing

The road surface to the waste rock site is starting to break-up. There are several potholes along the road.

16.b Roads: Drainage Controls

Road drainage was working as designed. I did not see any water crossing the roads.
