Hi Alan,

After our telephone conversation of yesterday I was able to get some people to re-arrange their schedules and make an inspection possible on March 29, instead of waiting until April 5. As I explained our attorneys have also been unavailable this week and most of our team is committed to a bond release inspection next Wednesday, making a response by March 31 quite difficult.

I would like to modify our extension request to give us until April 6 to respond. That would give us time to do the inspection, have our attorneys get more information from Joe and write the appropriate response. Had our attorneys not been out of pocket this week we may not have needed this extension, but they are an integral part of our response.

I hope that you realize that we do take this very seriously and are doing our best to respond in a timely manner. We appreciate your consideration of our circumstances in your evaluation of this request for an extension to April 6.

Thank you,
Dana
