Hello Bobbi,

I conducted an inspection on December 1, 2010. There have been several inspections since. We are required to conduct inspections monthly, but staff have been at the site more frequently during construction. We are currently processing an application for change in ownership and a change in mining sequence.

Here is the link to follow the progress of these reviews

Hi - I noticed that a mine inspection was done on December 1st and was wondering how often these inspections are planned or scheduled? Has there been one since the first of year?

There seems to be lots of activity at the site and continual modifications to the permit, management at ACD, etc. which I would expect is being monitored by OGM.

Please advise.
