Kirk,

We recently recieved the updated Certificate of Liability Insurance for the Coal Hollow Mine (see attached). We could not identify that the coverage includes the use of explosives (usually shown as XCU on the certificate). The Insurance policy must provide for personal injury and property damage protection that includes the use of explosives as required by R645-301-890.100. Please ensure that your insurance provides for the required explosives coverage. Our inspector will be checking for this during the next inspection. You should have the appropriate certificate on hand to avoid enforcement action. Thank you.
